The one was connected with a so-called leading Dry
ods House; the other in the Boot and Shoe line.
The shoemaker inquired of the vender of rags why it that the PEOPLE'S STORE was always so busy and wded with customers, while his house presented the earance of a haunted barn.
Quoth the merchant of rags, in loud and sonorous es: "No wonder; all they sell is 10-cent dress goods w, what can a man make on a yard of dress goods that ts 10 cents? We, in our majestic emporium, sell ds for $1, $1.50 and $2 a yard, and make from 50 cents
$1 a yard. You don't see the trash and truck of the Dorman B. Eaton on Cleveland's Letter.

THE VIEWS THOSE OF A TRUE STATESMAN.

Where the Democratic Party Stands and What It Must Do to Retain Power—Will It Profit by Past Experience?

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—Hon. Dorman B. Eaton, President of the Civil Service Commission, was to-day asked by a representative of the Associated Press for his views in regards to Governor Cleveland's letter, published this morning. Mr. Eaton, in reply, expressed himself as follows:

"It would be unpardonable presumption in me to assume to speak for Governor Cleveland, but I may speak freely for myself. I regard the letter as the deliberate, significant, and manly utterance of a man who comprehends the situation and has the courage of his convictions and duties. It is a platform and subject to which it relates. The views of the letter are those common to all true statesman of both parties, but the views are those most rapidly growing in the hearts of the people. The policy disclosed in the letter is that by which alone his party can retain power or the country escape decay. It shows plainly we are to have no mixed Cab

VE OVERHEARD A LUDICROUS CONVERSA- tion between two persons engaged in business in town, seeking consolation in mutual misery, and be- too good to keep, we conclude to give it to the public The one was connected with a so-called leading Dry ods House; the other in the Boot and Shoe line. The shoemaker inquired of the vender of rags why it that the PEOPLE'S STORE was always so busy and wded with customers, while his house presented the earance of a haunted barn.

Quoth the merchant of rags, in loud and sonorous es: "No wonder; all they sell is 10-cent dress goods v, what can a man make on a yard of dress goods that is 10 cents? We, in our majestic emporium, sell ds for $1, $1.50 and $2 a yard, and make from 50 cents $1 a yard. You don't see the trash and truck of the n in our store. It is a quiet, recherche trade, and en we sell one bill we make the expense of the day. don't cater to that class of trade, and don't want it."

He reminds us of the fable of the fox and the sour pes. After vain longing and struggling to cater, and ling they will not be catered to after his style, he has e to the conclusion that the "truck and trash" don't We leave the public to draw their own inferences n the above conversation, and ask you to say whether will trade with the 10-cent dress goods house that is tent with a living profit, or go to the hog-all emporn, and pay a profit of from 50 to 100 per cent. for the vilege of dealing with royalty.

TESTIMONIALS OF LOS ANGELES CITIZENS.

I desire to help my fellow sufferers all I can in my power to do, I hereby certify that I was afflicted with lung disease for years at my home in Hartford, Conn., being advised by my doctors to come to California, came to Los Angeles, but finding no relief came from the climate, owing to the dampness of the locality, I consulted Dr. Williams, who told me it was a critical case, but by the great extent of consolidation of the lungs, I could scarcely walk across the room without shortness of breath and hard pain. I was under the care of a physician, that

ENLARGED SHEET.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1884.

The New Year's Times.

The TIMES for Thursday, 1st of January, 1885, will be a mammoth, eight-page paper, full of the most valuable information. It will be a history of the growth of Los Angeles county during the past year. It will be a valuable and convincing immigration document to send east and abroad. We shall print a large edition, but from orders already received there is a likelihood of its being quickly exhausted, and those who wish to secure the paper in quantities to send away should send in their orders in advance. Your names will be entered on the book and the papers reserved. Properly distributed, the one issue of the TIMES alone will bring thousands of permanent settlers to Southern California.

Southern California's Interests at New Orleans.

It is gratifying to receive from New Orleans such a favorable report of the exhibits made by Southern California to the World's Fair in that city. The variety and excellence of the fruits of this section are attracting the general attention of visitors to this great exhibition. The logic of results is convincing. It leaves no room for questioning or for doubt. There is necessary no argument to prove the existence of what the eyes see and the lips can taste. Jealous producers of other States will find their breath wasted when they talk of the tastelessness and inferiority of California fruits to those who have had the opportunity to see and judge of them for themselves. There will be no galvanizing the fact that our claims for the superior excellence of our productions are not exaggerated.

With this knowledge of what California has to offer, will come a constantly growing demand for our marketable fruits, as well as a much wider market. No labored compendium of results obtained in this State, no exhaustive description of our orchards, and of our different varieties of fruits would be half as helpful for us, or half as convincing as a good display at the fair at New Orleans. It will interest, too, a class of persons which are of value to a community. People of wealth, of culture and of leisure, who will come here bringing capital which they will not hesitate to spend in improvements, in buildings and in the planting of orchards and vineyards, as well as in other enterprises that shall add largely to our resources and industries.

It takes time and close observation to convince people who have never visited this State of the exceptional possibilities of our soil and climate—the successful growth and propagation of temperate and semi-tropical fruits side by side, and under the same conditions. But place the actual results of such growth before the eyes, and, though the astonishment may exist, the doubt as to the possibility of such accomplishment has vanished. Southern California cannot be too active or too much interested in the matter of this display of her various productions and resources at this World's Fair. If she does her best in this direction she will be paving a broad highway for her future growth, which will be more strongly and generously built than could be done through years of pamphlet-making and lectaring on the possibilities of the country. Looking on our best oranges and raisins, on our pure wines and oils, on our nuts and our figs, on our grapes and our apples, there will be no danger of the charge being made that we largely exaggerate when we urge that in these we can equal if not excel any country in the world in the quality of these fruits. The exhibits, of themselves, will be sufficient to refute any false charges that may be made against us in this respect.

Let those who have the matter in charge see to it that Southern California is fairly, generously and continuously represented at this Fair. To do this will advance our interests in every part of the country and the world. It will enlarge our markets, and tend to turn in this direction a fresh, strong tide of immigration, such as will hasten on the development of our resources and the still more rapid peopling of our yet unoccupied lands.

Facts in the Concrete.

An agricultural statistician, with a taste for rural literature "boiled down," serves up some interesting and important facts in small compass as follows: It requires 15,000,000 cows to supply the demand for milk and its products in this country, and there are invested in the dairying business of the United States over $2,000,000,000, an amount nearly double the capital invested in banking and other commercial industries. It requires the cultivation of over 60,000,000 acres of land to furnish food for the above number of cows. More than 200,000,000 is invested in dairy machinery and implements alone. The man employed in dairying occupations number 700,000, and 1,000,000 horses are necessary. The cows and horses consume annually 30,000,000 tons of hay, 90,000,000 bushels of corn meal and the same amount of oat meal, 275,000,000 bushels of oats, 2,000,000 bushels of bran and 30,000,000 bushels of corn, to say nothing of the brewery grains and questionable feed of various kinds that is used all over the country. It costs $400,000,000 to feed these cows and horses.

HANNIBAL HAMLIN is said so be about to write his political biography. Such a work will cover the most important part of the country's history. It will deal with the war period, the existing controversy which preceded it, and the whole of our subsequent history, all of which Mr. Hamlin saw and part of which he was.

A MEXICAN WARWICK.

Pen Portrait of President Porfirio Diaz.

HIS TENACITY AS AN OFFICEHOLDER.

His Success as a Manipulator of Public Opinion—Already Setting Up His Successor—The Country Ripe for Revolution.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 15.

General Porfirio Diaz is a remarkable man, in a land not prolific of statesmen. Says a lundatory (but subsidized) Mexican journal: "His influence in this country is decisive, incontestable; something more than Juarez in the past, he is not only the great commoner, but the one man of the present."

He is now fifty-five years old—tall, dark, half-Indian in type, his muscular figure impressing one as the very incarnation of health and endurance. He has a military yet nonchalant air, his brown eyes meet you squarely with the glance of one born to command, and his voice is peculiarly pleasant as in deep tones he rolls off the musical dialect of his mother-tongue.

His career, like that of all Mexican leaders, is full of romantic adventure. He was born in 1830, in the rich State of Oaxaca—which was also the birthplace of Juarez, Ignacio Mejia, Mariscal, and others famed in politics and literature. Don Porfirio's parents designed him for the law, and sent him to the Colegio Carolino, in Puebla—the "City of the Angels"—which celebrated institution has graduated many of Mexico's most noted men. But Diaz took to soldiering as naturally as a duck to water, and at the age of twenty-four enlisted as a private in the National Guard against the oppressive government of Santa Ana. Again, in the "War of Reform" (1858–61), he won more substantial honors than the straps of an officer; and when the country was convulsed by the French invasion of '62, Diaz (now General) took a prominent part in the struggle.

Once during those wars, when a prisoner at Puebla, he let himself down from a tower, by means of a rope spliced out of his clothing and escaped. His brilliant conduct in the attack of Puebla, the valiant defense of his line in the siege of that city in '63, his splendid victories at La Carbonera and Miahuatlan, and his triumphal entry into the City of Mexico as General-in-chief of the forces which wrested it from the French, combined to make him a popular hero. His countrymen—the mixed descendants of warlike Aztecs and crusading Spaniards—naturally admire deeds of valor in the field more than the most exalted statesmanship. Taking advantage of his military prestige, Diaz offered himself for the Presidency, against Benito Juarez, on the no-re-election platform of 1871, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Don Sebastian Lerdo de Tejada, being the third candidate. Being defeated, he issued his "Plan of Noria," repudiating the existing powers and proposing to retain military command, and after a bloody war of many months, was banished from Mexico. With his subsequent conduct, after the death of Juarez and the election of Lerdo, all are familiar. He elected himself by "right of might" and held the Presidency by force of arms.

When President Diaz' first term was over and he resigned the government (ostensibly) into the hands of his friend, he set himself to work asserting itself. Some say "there will be no more revolutions, because all the grabbers have been provided with places"—but the signs of the times are not pointing toward peace with the consistency that could be desired. At the present moment the capital is guarded by more than 7000 soldiers, while mounted patrols constantly traverse its streets.

On the fourth day of the recent riots, the Government troops stationed at Halpan—the ancient San Augustine, nine miles from the City of Mexico, famous in the past for its church fests and gambling fetes—revolted, ostensibly on account of the English Debt bill, but really because the poor fellows have not been paid for many months. Thereupon three squads of city cavalry were sent out to subdue them; but on arriving at the scene of action, these also turned tail and joined the revolters! Then the whole body, 4,000 strong, came marching down toward the Capital, shouting their wild war-songs, stopping the street-cars, and creating general consternation in their course. At this alarming juncture, the Government wisely capitulated, so far as to order Congress to postpone further consideration of the obnoxious bill, until after Diaz's inauguration.

The citizens are requested by the powers that be—which in Mexico is equivalent to a command—not to speak of present disturbances as revolutionary, but if they must be mentioned at all, to call them by no more serious name than "riots." Woe unto the luckless scribe within the borders of this free republic who should be beguiled into telling a grain of truth as to the true situation in his home dispatches. Although the amended "Liberal" constitution expressly stipulates "liberty of the press," the mildest treatment that he might expect would be immediate expulsion from the country under that famous article 33d, relative to "pernicious foreigners."

One day during the storm of indignation which the noted English debt bill raised, some three hundred college students took part in the demonstration against the government. One hundred and sixty of them were arrested and thrown into prison; and a large proportion of these will doubtless be "deported" to Yucatan—the much-dreaded Mexican Siberia, in all but climate. God pity the mothers of these hot-headed youngsters, for it is equally certain that some of the number will fall victims, en route, to the Leyfugo.

The number who claim that "a bad government is better than a good revolution," are just now in the minority in Mexico. Old Mexicans who have watched events for a quarter of a century, shake their heads sagely and prognosticate direful happenings; and if there is not a general uprising of the people within the near future it is simply because a man to lead them who is capable of opposing Diaz in strength and strategy, is not to be found. The civil service is notoriously corrupt. Opportunities for bitter oppression are open to both Federal and State Governments, and redress by the ballot is impossible. Says Bishop: "The anomaly is presented of a Republic in which there is no census nor registration of voters, no security of the ballot-box except by the party in power. The people themselves take little interest in the political machine, and the number of votes cast at elections is pitifully small, because it is not considered worth while to vote. The lower classes read no informing journals, and have no public speakers. Such opposition as exists is not organized, but purely personal, as all contests for office are personal and not matters of principle. The Government—that of the center influencing the States, and those in turn the communities—sustains and counts in what candidates it pleases. There are no data for objections, since nobody can point to the real number of voters in a given place, nor their names.

According to the Mexican system now in vogue, one elector is supposed to be chosen by the people, for every five hundred inhabitants or fraction thereof, in each Congressional District. This Electoral College, besides selecting (by secret ballot) two Senators for each State and one for the Territory of Lower California, and one Congressional Deputy for every 50,000 inhabitants, chooses also the President. This looks fair enough on paper; and really the amended constitution, as an abstract document, reads well. But in actual fact scarcely one citizen in 10,000 knows when election comes off, and the electors (of course carefully manipulated beforehand) represent only themselves and the interests to which they are subjoined, rather than vox populi. Understanding these things, it is not difficult to account for all that has happened; and, remembering that there is absolutely no remedy for oppressive dissolution but in rebellion, none need be surprised if that which has occurred so many times in the past, should occur again.

The grumblers assert that President Diaz never has done anything, and never will, toward educating the nation up to a realizing sense of their rights of suffrage, or how to profitably employ the arts of peace. One of his own subsidized journals remarked to him: "It is not alone with railways that a nation so disorganized as ours can reconstitute itself; not alone the locomotive and the telegraph that can make us happy. There should emanate from the regions of power something like an impulse of obedience to law and observance of the institutions upon which rests the social and political well-being of the country." The railways, however, greatly diminish the chances of future trouble, by furnishing employment to thousands who formerly occupied themselves in plunder, and were literally at a moments' notice to fall in with any revolutionary movement that might arise. By the aid of the locomotive and the telegraph, the government can quickly mass its forces at points of danger; and another consideration, by no means to be disregarded, is the fact that foreign governments might be disposed to interfere, were the legitimate business enterprises of its citizens in Mexico threatened wit serious damage. FANNIE B. WARD.

The Galvanic Chain is one of my own inventions. And one of the best-constructed Electro-Medical appliances ever made. It is not a pleasant, soothing and steady current, which will penetrate the whole system throughout. The chain is so constructed that I can use five different degrees of power, as indicated or Vapor Baths, which cleanses the skin and opens the pores, giving a free circulation and enabling nature to remove impurities from the blood. Rheumatism, that cruelness is next to Godliness, and the pores of the skin must be kept open and healthy or early death are sure to follow. With my chair I can sweat the most delicate invalid every day, and give them strength from each application. I do away with all the old, expensive combination of heat and sheet, rendering the feebles of my patients comfortable. Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation and loss and strengthen the whole system from the first application. I can say all the nervous manifestations of the various vital organs. I do not say this for the purpose of boasting of my treatment in order to promote a cure, but from the commencement invariably. I have said I have a hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable, and with my system have shown many into restoration over the beneficial effects of my treatment. I have given up all hopes of ever receiving a single patient, and have caused the happiness of many families. I have given up hopes to relieve the suffering of others. I have also a specific remedy for Epileptic fits. Epileptics to fight up under the exhilarating influence of a vitalizing current of electricity, which will drive the poisonous nerve to the stomach, and I will guarantee a cure in every case. Paralysis to run and rejoice in the restoration of painful, contracted, stiff limbs. Rheumatism to be driven out of the system, and in all diseases, I mean beneficial results which are wonderful. In making diseases of the nervous agent, I do not only open it to the exclusion of every other kind, but I claim that if properly applied as an adjunct, with a judicious system of medicine, I will produce more and speedier cures than I can with either alone. Progressive science has yielded many old theories.

INHALATION.

I have just introduced a new treatment by inhalation, by which lung diseases and many others are cured speedily.

I HAVE NO ONE CURE-ALL,

nor do I make a hobby of any one mode of treatment. I use electricity or medicine or both, as occasion may require. I believe in preventing all things and holding fast to that which is good. I am aware that it is a positive fact that the majority of diseases are caused by impure blood, and the only way to prevent a cure is to remove the poisons and build up the system by proper food, pure air and exercise. This is my theory, and I find the same to be correct in practice. Therefore, satisfied by medical remedies properly applied, will prevent a cure without fail.

I treat with success all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Eye and Ear, etc.

TO THE LADIES.

To the Ladies I would say: You whose sufferings have become intolerable, and who are suffering a thousand deaths from those diseases so common to your sex, give me a call. Consultations and examinations free. Those at a distance can write me. All letters will be strictly private and confidential.

YOUNG MEN.

To those young men who have suffered from year to year, and whose vital powers have become impaired and nervous system unstrung and broken down, and are suffering from the effects of solitude, bad habits, etc., I have a few words to say. Premature decay and early death. To those who, from indiscretion, have become afflicted with private diseases and are desirous of being cured, come without fail, for I can guarantee a speedy cure.

CONSULTATION FREE.

I invite the sick, no matter what their diseases may be, to call and investigate the merits of my treatment before abandoning all hope, for it will cost you nothing. I give an honest opinion, and unless there is a fair amount of health left in the system, I will not undertake a case. My terms are reasonable in my charges. I claim not to cure everybody, but to cure all that can be cured. I am formerly from New York City, and graduate of one of the best medical colleges in the United States, and a most thorough Electrician, and have had many years' practical experience in the treatment of both acute and chronic diseases. To remove all doubts and misrepresentations, I refer to any one I have ever treated. I refer to the following well-known gentlemen, whose names are familiar to the most of the people of this city, and all I ask is that you give me a fair, unbiased trial, and I will guarantee to give entire satisfaction to all who favor me with their patronage. I have the cause and the remedy needed, not by guess-work, but by years of experience in the treatment of various diseases.

Those unable to pay for treatment will be treated free of charge between the hours of 9 and 10 a.m. only.

☞ Consultations at my office, No. 414 Solomon Block, South Spring street, between First and Second streets. Hours—From 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 6 and 6 to 8 p. m.; Sundays, 10 to 12 a. m. Patients from out-of-town boarded and lodged in same building. I will personally see all patients. All correspondents desiring an answer should enclose a postage stamp.

CITY COUNCIL.

The Municipal Work Accomplished Yesterday.

PARTING MESSAGES FROM MAYOR THOM.

The Foundations of the City Jail—No Smoking in the Council—Routine Business—Monthly Reports.

Council met in regular session yesterday, President Miles in the chair.

Present: Brown, Bullis, Sinsabaugh, Holbrook, Veiar, Niles, Buscaliux, Lambie, McGarry, Day and Santee.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The Mayor reported the sum of $202.35 collected in the city court since last settlement. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Mayor also returned the contract with Messrs. Bicknell & White, believing that in a matter of so much importance the new Council should have a voice. On motion, the Clerk of the Council was instructed to sign the contract in behalf of the city.

Also returning the contract between the city and D. D. Hayes for the purchase of a fire engine, without his approval, for further consideration and amendment. Referred to the City Attorney, and Mr. Hayes granted 30 days additional time.

Mayor Spence returned Tony Bright's bonds without his signature, for the reason that his bondsmen had not attached their names to the document. On motion Mr. Bright was ordered to furnish another bond.

Report of the City Auditor. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Monthly report of Zanjero, showing sales of water to be $80 for the month of December. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Weekly report of Zanjero read and referred to the Finance Committee.

Weekly report of the Street Superintendent, showing an expenditure of $266 on streets and river improvement, and presenting pay-roll. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Communication from J. C. Kays, City Treasurer, stating that no claims have been filed in his office against the improvement of Buena Vista street, between High and Short streets; also that no claims have been filed against the flood street improvement. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

COMMITTEE ON SEWERS.

The Committee on Sewers presented a statement that 4525 feet of the Alameda street sewer has been completed to date; also presenting pay roll. Approved.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The Board of Public Works presented the following report:

On petition of property owners that Short street from Upper Main to Canal and Reservoir street, and Canal and Reservoir street to the west boundary of the city, be consolidated under the name of Knox avenue, and that the grade of the street from Upper Main to Pearl be established, recommend that the City Attorney draw up a resolution embodying the first division of the petition, and that the City Attorney be instructed to prepare a grade for the street. Approved.

On petition of J. M. Guinn, ask one week's further time. Approved.

On petition of J. D. Bicknell and others, recommend that the Chief of Police be instructed to arrest any person found excavating or trespassing upon the lands in question. Approved.

Recommend establishing the grade of Rock street. Approved.

Recommend granting the petition of P. W. Dunne and others to improve Courthouse street, just above Fort street, by making a walk, provided none of the property owners object; also that the street superintendent be instructed to carry into effect the modification of specifications as asked for. Recommendation ordered carried out.

On petition of Thos. Philbrick that grade of Temple street, from Pearl street to the western boundary of the city, be established, recommend that property owners present a map defining line of Temple street, together with deeds of the several strips so designated as a public street. Approved.

On petition of J. Frankenfeld asking permission to grade Tenth street, from Hill street to Olive street, recommend it be granted provided a water-way for main 8 be provided. So ordered.

Notice of intention to establish the grade of Tenth street, from Main street to Flower street. Ordered published.

On petition of J. D. Sullivan and others, that Hollenbeck avenue be declared a public street, a statement that said avenue is one of the streets of the city laid out by Major Hancock, and a recommendation that all obstructions be removed. Approved.

Request further time on petition of I. W. Hellman against widening Washington street. Granted.

A recommendation that the City Surveyor be instructed to make the survey of the north side of Moran's lane. Approved.

Recommendation that the petitions of James Rheim and others, asking cross-walks, be referred to the Street Superintendent with power to act. So ordered.

Recommendation that the petition of A. A. Randall be denied. Approved.

Recommendation that the City Surveyor propose a grade for Philadelphia street. So ordered.

Notice of intention to establish the grade of Hope street from Sixth street to Twelfth street. Adopted.

Notice of intention to establish the grade of Flower street from Sixth street to Twelfth street. Adopted reported that the bid of Marsey and Freeman for the printing and binding of the city reports at the lowest and best bid received, and recommend that the award be made to them. So ordered. Also presented a report approving the regular monthly bills. Warrants ordered drawn for the same.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE

The Committee on Fire and Water recommended that a fire hydrant be established at the corner of Tenth and Main streets, also for placing of one at the corner of Lazard and Amelia.

On motion the City Water Engineer was instructed to place hydrants at the places designated.

Also recommend that the lease of the Fire Hose Company's building be renewed at $30 a month. So ordered.

Also recommend that Henry Barthol be appointed driver of 3the hose cart at a salary of $60 a month. So ordered.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Mr. McGarry moved that a committee of five be appointed to confer with property owners relative to opening Second street between Main and Alameda streets. Carried and Messrs. McGarry, Bullis, Lambie, Biscailuz and Santee appointed as such committee.

Mr. Veiar called attention to a fire hydrant at the corner of Buena Vista and College streets, which obstructs the sidewalk. The Auditor was instructed to notify the water company to move the hydrant at the city's expense.

Mr. McGarry moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to turn-pike Main street from Twelfth to the city limits. Referred to the Board of Public Works.

Mr. Biscailuz moved that an ordinance be drawn prohibiting fast driving over the First and Aliso street bridges. Carried.

Mr. Veiar moved that a crosswalk be placed at the intersection of San Fernando street and Downey avenue. So ordered.

Mr. Brown moved that John Crimmins be notified to pay the city $20 a month ground rent for his place on Spring street, or vacate the premises. Carried.

Resolution that the Chief of Police be allowed a clerk, to be known as a "Property Clerk," at a salary of $50 per month. Lost.

Motion that the salary of the Chief of Police from and after the first of January be $150 a month. Adopted.

NO SMOKING IN THE COUNCIL.

Dr. Sinsabaugh moved that all smoking be prohibited in the Council Chamber during the session of the Council. He said he had never formed the habit of smoking when young, and tobacco was very offensive to him. After breathing smoke for a whole afternoon he said he went away with a headache and feeling sick.

A Voice—"Doctor I suppose you only include cobalders in this rule, you don't mean Councilmen ?"

Dr. Sinsabaugh—"Oh, yes ! I mean equally it will be no hardship to them from smoking for a few hours.

Mr. McGarry rose and said that he had not contracted the habit of smoking till he was thirty years of age. He was now excessively fond of the weed, but he would say that he did appreciate smoking during Council meetings. He hoped he would not be deprived of the same.

The motion was put and amid considerable confusion was declared carried by the chair.

CITY JAIL FOUNDATIONS.

Mr. Brown stated that an examination of the stone foundations of the new jail by the committee appointed, showed that the stone used complied with the specifications insomuch as it was sandstone, yet it seems a very poor quality of sandstone—not fit for building purposes. The quantity of cement used is also insufficient.

Mr. Holbrook stated that the quality used was the same as that used in the Hollenbeck block.

Mr. Niles said that since the article appeared in the TIMES referring to the quality of the stone, that five poor stones had been rejected where one had been before.

Mr. Brown said he had a poor opinion of sandstone. In the cemeteries, at the base of the old monuments, it had crumbled badly.

R. B. Young, the architect of the jail, defended the quality of the stone.

Mr. Niles said that with a pen-knife he had cut deep into one of the stones. He moved that when the Council adjourned they proceed in a body to the City Hall and inspect the work. Carried.

PETITIONS, PROTESTS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

Petition of Ninth-street property-holders, that grade be established between Main and Olive streets. Referred to Board of Public Works.

Petition of Huckins & Bray, for permission to put in a sidetrack on San Pedro street. Referred to Board of Public Works.

Petition of L. Froelich, that $15, taken from the drawer in his office while he was acting Chief of Police, be returned to him. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Petition of H. S. Parcels, that a special committee be appointed to investigate certain tax sale matters. So ordered, and Messrs. Brown, Biscailuz, and Santee appointed as such committee.

Petition of S. C. Kays, City Treasurer, asking for a new, larger, and more suitable safe for use in his office. Referred to Finance Committee.

Petition from S. H. Slaught for the privilege to use water from the zanja between First and Third streets for one year for the purpose of running a swimming and plunge bath. Referred to the Zanja Committee.

Petition of Alameda and Upper Main street property owners for a crosswalk at the junction of both. Referred to Board of Public Works with power to act.

Petition of George Cummings that all excavations on the north side of First street abutting on Aliso and Boyle avennes be ordered discontinued, owing to injury to his property and danger to the public. Referred to Board of Public Works.

Petition of property owners for crossing on First street, opposite Wilmington street. Referred to Board of Public Works.

Petition of Thos. Philbrook. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Petition of J. D. Campbell, for use of east side of Olive street, between Second and Third streets, for building purposes. Granted.

Petition of S. H. Slaught, for extension of the charter for Street Railroad on Fort, Temple and Sand streets, in this city, to Bunker Hill avenue. Referred to Board of Public Works.

Petition of property owners on Jefferson street, between Figueroa street and the city limits, that grade be established. Referred to Board of Public Works. Adjourned.

SOIL:

Rich, deep and adapted to the production of the peach, apricot, pear, apple, nectarine, plum, prune, raspberry, blackberry, strawberry, gooseberry, cherry, and the entire grape family, both raisin and wine.

Depot, express and postoffice, store, meat market, good school, fine Union church and the best country hotel on the Pacific coast.

The above are some of the many advantages this colony possesses, and the managers are all reliable businessmen, and now offer land in this colony for sale to actual settlers, and to those who come to California seeking homes, as well as to those already in the State. We say come and examine land and water, and we will guarantee satisfaction. Stop at the Banning House and ask for the manager of the Banning Land Company. For terms, etc., address,

Notice to Advertisers.

The New Year's TIMES will be a mammoth ten-page paper and a very large edition will be printed in order to meet the demand at home and abroad. It will afford an opportunity for sharp advertisers to get in their work to advantage. A local or display advertisement in the New Year's TIMES will be worth more than double its cost and more than double that of any other issue of the past year. Advertisers are requested to send in their copy early to-day, but locals will be received as late as nine o'clock to-night.

Happy New Year's.

The TIMES will on New Year's morning publish a complete list of the ladies who, in honor of the good old custom, will receive on that day, provided the names and residences and the numbers of the houses are sent to the office before ten o'clock on the evening of the 31st. The names of the ladies who are to assist should also be sent, and all names should be plainly written in a legible hand.

LOCAL DOTS.

Burch & Boal's store will be closed all day New Year's.

P. L. Larson was arrested yesterday on Commercial street, by Officer Lynch, for stealing a satchel.

Officer Lovell yesterday shot and killed a horse suffering from the glanders on Macy street.

The special car containing Superintendent F. W. Smith and family, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, went north yesterday.

Burch & Boal will close their store on New Year's.

Many pleasant and amusing incidents of the late war were talked over by old comrades at the G. A. R. entertainment last night.

The remains of H. D. Hartwell, who died recently at Pasadena, were embalmed by Undertaker Brown, and will be sent east to-day for burial at Marshalltown, Iowa.

Buy your groceries to-day, for Burch & Boal will not be open New Year's.

The following papers were filed in the office of the County Recorder yesterday: Eight deeds, 12 mortgages, 7 satisfactions, 6 miscellaneous, 3 patents and 5 marriage licenses.

Mr. Thomas and party, of Cleveland, have been so pleased with their week's stay in this city, that they will abandon their elegant private car and settle down to home comforts in our city for a month longer.

Preparations for a large reception on New Year's Day are being made by the Young Mens' Christian Association and their friends. The Association particularly desires strangers in the city on that day, to call at their hall.

R. J. Pennell, general agent Hartford Life and Annuity Insurance Companies, has just returned from San Francisco and will remain over New Year's. He pays the Gephart loss in his company to-morrow, showing the promptness and reliability of the institution he represents, he receiving the draft eight days after proof of claim.

This day at 2 p. o'clock in the afternoon, rain or shine, on the premises, John C. Bell will sell at auction, rain or shine, the fine residence near Downey avenue, No. 223 Chestnut ... to the highest bidder. Fine view, nothing to obstruct it. Free water, windmill and tank, capable of supplying a large number of houses, of which a large income might be obtained. The house has all modern conveniences, bath, closets in every room. The inducements are it is a credit sale, a greater part of the money can remain with interest very low on the year's time at 9½ per cent. per annum. Don't fail to attend the sale if you want a residence; it is one that you can be proud of. Title perfect. Abstract furnished.

Dairy Notice.

Pasadena Union, Dec. 27th.]

Mr. L. A. Cary, the dairyman, on account of failing health, will abandon the project of starting a dairy in Pasadena, as has been heretofore announced. He therefore offers his fine herd of dairy cows for sale. Those desiring first-class fresh milch cows can do no better than to avail themselves of this opportunity. Mr. Cary also offers for sale a new milk wagon, milk cans, buckets, patent creamery and other utensils used in general dairying.

Commence the New Year

By securing a first-class homestead lot in one of the most desirable localities in Los Angeles. Price $600, in payments of $25 per month without interest. Obtain maps and circulars of the Childs tract at the agency, 273 N. Main street.

Close the Old Year

By subscribing to a lot in the Childs tract. Before the next New Year these lots will be dotted over with homes and will be held at high figures.

Mayor Spence's First Case.

Mayor E. F. Spence presided in the City Court yesterday morning for the first time. The only two offenders brought into court were M. Clark and Wm. Sanders, each pleading guilty to being drunk. A fine of $3 was imposed in each case.

A BRUTAL WRETCH.

W. W. Taylor Assaults His Wife on Main Street.

AS A RESULT HE LANGUISHES IN JAIL.

How a Notorious Trio of Confidence Men Were Foiled by a Woman's Refusal to Carry Out Their Instructions.

There was a first-class sensation on Main street yesterday morning, which amply satisfies the romancer and promises to result in sending up the leader of one of the smoothest confidence gangs that has ever infested Los Angeles. The recital of the circumstances leading up to the final explosion and arrest of the "hero," reads like a novel and shows how a comparatively small incident often opens the way to important results. About ten o'lock yesterday morning W. W. Taylor, accompanied by his pretty young bride, might have been seen crossing the street in front of the Rose Hotel, directing their course to the stairway leading into that hostelry. Deep but suppressed curses escaped Taylor's lips, and threats upon the life of the woman by his side were made, while pitiable pleas for mercy were the responses. As they entered the hall the curses deepened and attracted the attention of passers-by. "——— you, you will do as I have ordered you, or I'll kill you." With this he pressed her against the stairway, slapped her face and twisted her nose. She called to Mr. J. L. Williams, proprietor of the hotel, to protect her. That gentleman stepped in between them, told her to go up stairs and ordered Taylor to let go of her. Then followed another chapter of curses. The worst epithets known to the language were heaped upon the woman's head. He told her she could go under "that man's protection," and warned Mr. Williams that he had taken under his care a woman who would prove all he had charged upon her. Taylor then left to seek consolation in a neighboring saloon. Shortly after noon he returned and demanded to see his wife. Learning that he had returned, Mrs. Taylor ran into Mrs. Williams' parlor and plead for her protection and not to let him from him. She was placed in the bed-room and the door closed. But the enraged husband had followed her. He went into the parlor and demanded his wife. He was politely requested to leave the room, as he had not been invited in. He grabbed Mrs. Williams, shoved her aside, then broke the glass in the door leading to the bed-chamber. There he found Mrs. Taylor trembling with fear. After venting his rage again upon her he returned to the office below, where he found one Harrison and "Major" Lee, ready to assist him in avenging himself upon Mr. Williams. He assaulted Mr. Williams, and Harrison stood by, knocking down Williams's arms as he warded off the blows. No serious blows, however, were dealt. Several times Taylor attempted to pull a gun from his hip-pocket, but from some cause was unable to do so.

HIS PALS AND CO-WORKERS,

TAYLOR ARRESTED.

Taylor continued his abuse of Mr. Williams until Constable Botello, assisted by Officer Benedict, arrived and marched him to the cooler. Four warrants were sworn out against him, one for assault and battery, and one to bind him over to keep the peace by Mr. Williams and the same by Mrs. Taylor. Examination is set for 10 o'clock to-day.

THE THREE CHUMS ARE.

This motley trio, Taylor, Lee and Harrison, are notorious crooks. Taylor and Lee first appeared in Los Angeles during the fair week. Since then they have apparently made this their headquarters. Harrison has been more or less in San Francisco, Sacramento and other towns, playing their bunko games. Harrison was only recently driven out of Denver, or rather escaped to avoid the clutches of the law and joined the Taylor and Lee party. Taylor and Lee were also familiar characters around he notorious Ed. Chase's gambling hell in Denver, Colorado, and are well known there. They have made their headquarters at the St. Elmo Hotel, and almost every night for eight days, smoking fine cigars in front of that house. It was here, it appears, the party originated the novel idea of capturing the handsome young widow, working her ruin, hoping ultimately to reach her to play the leading role in their blackmailing games. The conception of the scheme was worthy its source, and but for the ill-y-chosen place for the "family quarrel" yesterday morning, it might have been successfully carried out after a few more "private" intimidations, for which there seems to have been many.

is a rather small, pleasant looking woman, refined and lady-like in her deportment, and dresses in good taste. The first time in Los Angeles she was on the 10th of October, when she arrived at the St. Elmo and registered as "Mrs. E. A. Hudson and daughter, Cleveland, Ohio." The daughter is a bright, pretty little child of five summers. At that time the mother was a widow, her first husband having died in Cleveland. He left her a small fortune, which enabled the woman to travel about and enjoy life on the Pacific coast. Mrs. Hudson had only been in the city a few days when Taylor, who was also stopping at the St. Elmo, sought and made her acquaintance. This he accomplished by having the waiter seat him at the same table at which Mrs. Hudson ate. As soon as he was noticed that the two were on friendly terms, several gentlemen, who knew the contemptible character of Taylor, warned the woman against having any thing to do with him. Their kindly efforts were of no avail, and with her eyes opened to his character and vocation of gambler and bunko sharp she married him, Rev. Mr. Ellis, of Ellis Villa College, performing the ceremony. From the time of their marriage, about the middle of November, nothing more was known of the pair until last week, when Taylor returned alone. By strategy he obtained rooms at J. L. Williams's. He borrowed money from friends, and on Saturday sent $23 to Santa Barbara for his wife to come on here. Mrs. Taylor arrived on last Sunday. When she was married she had in her possession about $1600, every dollar of which the scoundrel who married her, for the vague purpose doubtless of robbing her, had under one pretense and another gotten. He even pawned the woman's jewelry while they were in Santa Barbara.

On Monday morning Taylor secured a vehicle, and with his wife, "Major" Lee, and Harrison drove out to Pasadena. These beautiful birds had concocted a nice blackmailing scheme, and were on their way to carry it out, Mr. Green, of Pasadena, was the victim selected. The arrangements, as related by the woman, were after the old and approved style. Mr. Green was to be sent for to meet a lady friend at the hotel. The lady would receive him alone and then carry out the part intrusted to her. The three cold-blooded wretches were to break into the room and the injured husband would agree to compromise the matter by Mr. Green attaching his signature to a check. Three checks, for different amounts, (circumstances determined to how much should be used) were filled out and had in readiness by Taylor. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Green met, but the woman, who had been forced, by threats and ill-usage and through fear, to enter into the scheme, refused at the last minute to carry out the programme as arranged, and the whole thing miscarried. After Taylor was arrested yesterday the checks, lacking only the signature, were found torn into small bits by Constable Botello in the room occupied by the pair.

The origin of yesterday's difficulty was the failure of the plans of Monday, Taylor, in his drunken anger, grossly insulting and publicly beating the woman. A TIMES reporter called upon Mrs. Taylor yesterday afternoon. She at first refused to say anything whatever about the trouble with her husband. Later, however, she talked more freely. Notwithstanding the attempts of "Major" Lee and Harrison to intimidate her and induce her to withdraw the charges against Taylor, she will prosecute him to the bitter end. She will also sue at once for a divorce. This, however, will hardly be necessary, as a well-deserved term in the penitentiary would answer the same purpose, and free her from the galling bonds that bind her to the leech who thrives on the life-blood of good society.

Williams, after the excitement, cooled down, kindly consented to shelter Mrs. Taylor until morning, when some very interesting developments are anticipated in the court, where it is expected the whole matter will be ventilated.

ROTTEN FOUNDATIONS.

An Investigation of the Walls of the New Jail.

The article relating to the rotten stone used in the foundation of the city jail which appeared first in the TIMES, was commented upon in the Council yesterday, and resulted in a motion being made by Councilman Niles that after adjournment the Council as a Committee of the Whole should visit the jail and judge what the quality of the material is. This was done, and upon arriving at the walls Councilman Velair procured a hammer and struck some of the stones fronting on Second street. These proved to be in excellent condition and in every respect satisfactory, but on going to the west side Councilman Brown found two or three stones which crumbled at every blow of the hammer. All present agreed that they were not fit to use in the building, but as Architect Young persisted in saying that this stone would harden after a few weeks exposure to the air, the investigation was continued. The stone used on the east side is very good, and it is doubtful if better sandstone exists anywhere, but Councilman Niles, going inside, soon found a stone a little below the surface which gave evidence of being very rotten. In the first place he stuck his penknife into it up to the handle, but this Mr. Young explained by saying that the outside was shale and might be expected to flake off. City Engineer Knox then struck it a few blows with his hammer and the large block was reduced almost instantly to a pile of what was little better than wet gravel. The stones above them caved in, and Mr. Young carefully picked over the ruins, expressing astonishment that any such material should have got in. "But," said he, "Gentlemen, I don't think you will find five such stones in the whole building." The investigation went on, however, and several other stones were pronounced unfit for building purposes by the Councilmen. Just what action will be taken is not known, but it is not probable that a building intended for such a purpose as a jail will be permitted to rest on a foundation of stones which can be cut to pieces with a penknife. The contractors, however, claim that they have complied strictly with the specifications.

Woman's Auxiliary, G. A. R.

The supper and ball given by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Frank Bartlett Post, G. A. R., at Good Templars' Hall last night, proved a greater success than was anticipated. Supper, an excellent one, embracing an almost endless variety of good things, was served in the hall from five until seven o'clock, during which time nearly 400 persons sat down to the table.

At 8 o'clock the "Address of Welcome" was made by Mrs. Ransome, followed by several vocal and instrumental selections, all of which were well received.

Dancing was begun early in the evening, and continued until 11 o'clock. The entertainment was a happy reunion, and will be productive of still happier reunits by the relief to widows and orphans which the money made last night will give.

Accident to a "Times" Carrier.

Yesterday a lad by the name of Smalley, who delivers the TIMES to the district west of Seventh street, met with an accident, his horse slipping and throwing him off. He received several bruises, and in consequence was unable to deliver the papers. At a later hour they were served by another carrier.

Police Commission.

The Police Commission meets this morning at 11 o'clock, and will probably make a number of new appointments.

School Entertainment.

On Friday evening the pupils of St. Vincent's School will give an entertainment at the Opera House. No doubt a large number of friends of the institution will be present.

Notice to Advertisers.

The New Year's TIMES will be a mammoth ten-page paper and a very large edition will be printed in order to meet the demand at home and abroad. It will afford an opportunity for sharp advertisers to get in their work to advantage. A local or display advertisement in the New Year's TIMES will be worth more than double its cost and more than double that of any other issue of the past year. Advertisers are requested to send in their copy early to-day, but locals will be received as late as nine o'clock to-night.

Happy New Year's.

The TIMES will on New Year's morning publish a complete list of the ladies who, in honor of the good old custom, will receive on that day, provided the names and residences and the numbers of the houses are sent to the office before ten o'clock on the evening of the 31st. The names of the ladies who are to assist should also be sent, and all names should be plainly written in a legible hand.

A BRUTAL WRETCH.

W. W. Taylor Assaults His Wife on Main Street.

AS A RESULT HE LANGUISHES IN JAIL.

How a Notorious Trio of Confidence Men Were Foiled by a Woman's Refusal to Carry Out Their Instructions.

There was a first-class sensation on Main street yesterday morning, which amply satisfies the romancer and promises to result in sending up the leader of one of the smoothest confidence gangs that has ever infested Los Angeles. The recital of the circumstances leading up to the final explosion and arrest of the "hero," reads like a novel and shows how a comparatively small incident often opens the way to important results. About ten o'clock yesterday morning W. W. Taylor, accompanied by his pretty young bride, might have been seen crossing the street in front of the Rose Hotel, directing their course to the stairway leading into that hostelry. Deep but suppressed curses escaped Taylor's lips, and threats upon the life of the woman by his side were made, while pitiable pleas for mercy were the responses. As they entered the hall the curses deepened and attracted the attention of passers-by. "——— you, you will do as I have ordered you, or I'll kill you." With this he pressed her against the stairway, slapped her face and twisted her nose. She called to Mr. J. L. Williams, proprietor of the hotel, to protect her. That gentleman stepped in between them, told her to go up stairs and ordered Taylor to let go of her. Then followed another chapter of curses. The worst epithets known to the language were heaped upon the woman's head. He told her she could go under "that man's protection," and warned Mr. Williams that he had taken under his care a woman who would prove all he had charged upon her. Taylor then left to seek consolation in a neighboring saloon. Shortly after noon he returned and demanded to see his wife, asserting that he had returned, Mrs. Taylor ran into Mrs. Williams' parlor and plead for her protection and asked to be hid from him. She was placed in the bed-room and the door closed. But the enraged husband had followed her, he went into the parlor and demanded his wife. He was politely requested to leave the room, as he had not been invited in. He grabbed Mrs. Williams, shoved her aside, then broke the glass in the door leading to the bed-chamber. There he found Mrs. Taylor trembling with fear. After venting his rage again upon her he returned to the office below, where he found one Harrison and "Major" Lee, ready to assist him in wreaking himself upon Mr. Williams. He assaulted Mr. Williams, and Harrison stood by, knocking down Williams's arms as he warded off the blows. No serious blows, however, were dealt. Several times Taylor attempted to pull a gun from his hip-pocket, but from some cause was unable to do so.

HIS PALS AND CO-WORKERS,

TAYLOR ARRESTED.

Taylor continued his abuse of Mr. Williams until Constable Botello, assisted by Officer Rendell, arrived and marched him to the cooler. Four warrants were sworn out against him, one for assault and battery, and one to bind him over to keep the peace by Mr. Williams and the same by Mrs. Taylor. Examination at 2 o'clock to-day.

WHO THE CHUCKS ARE.

This motley trio, Taylor, Lee and Harrison, are notorious crooks. Taylor and Lee first appeared in Los Angeles during the fair week. Since then they have apparently made this their headquarters, making numerous trips to San Francisco, Sacramento and other towns, playing their bunko games. Harrison was only recently driven out of Denver, or rather escaped to avoid the clutches of the law and joined the Con party. Both Taylor and Lee were also familiar characters around he notorious Ed. Chase's gambling hell in Denver, Colorado, and are well known there. They have made their headquarters at the St. Elmo Hotel, and since every day might be seen smoking fine cigars in front of that house. It was here, it appears, the party originated the novel idea of capturing the handsome young widow, working her ruin, hoping ultimately to teach her to "play" leading role in their blackmailing games. The conception of the scheme was worthy its source, and but for the illy-chosen place for the "family quarrel" yesterday morning, it might have been successfully carried out after a few more "private" intimidations, of which there seems to have been many.

is a rather small, pleasant looking woman, refined and lady-like in her deportment, and dresses in good taste. She arrived in the Los Angeles was on the 10th of October, when she arrived at the St. Elmo and registered as "Mrs. E. A. Hudson and daughter, Cleveland, Ohio." The daughter is a bright, pretty little child of five years. At first sight the mother was a widow, her first husband having died in Cleveland. He left her a small fortune, which enabled the woman to travel about and enjoy life on the Pacific coast. Mrs. Hudson had only been in the city a few days when Taylor, who was also stopping at the St. Elmo, sought and made her acquaintance. This he accomplished by having the waiter seat him at the same table at which Mrs. Hudson ate. As soon as it was noticed that the two were on friendly terms, several gentlemen, who knew the contemptible character of Taylor, warned the woman against having any thing to do with him. Their kindly efforts were of no avail, and with her eyes opened to his character and vocation of gambler and bunko sharp she married him, Rev. Mr. Ellis, of Ellis Villa College, performing the ceremony. From the time of their marriage, about the middle of November, nothing more was known of the pair until last week, when Taylor returned alone. By strategy he obtained rooms at J. L. Williams's. He borrowed money from friends, and on Saturday sent $25 to Santa Barbara for his wife to come on here. Mrs. Taylor arrived on last Sunday. When she was married she had in her possession about $1600, every dollar of which the scoundrel who married her, for the purpose doubtless of robbing her, had under one pretense and another gotten. He even pawned the woman's jewelry while they were in Santa Barbara.

On Monday morning Taylor secured a vehicle, and with his wife, "Major" Lee, and Harrison drove out to Pasadena. These beautiful birds had concocted a nice blackmailing scheme, and were on their way to carry it out. Mr. Green, of Pasadena, was the victim selected. The arrangements, as related by the woman, were after the old and approved style. Mr. Green was to be sent for to meet a lady friend at the hotel. The lady would receive him alone and then carry out the part instructed to her. The three cold-blooded wretches were to break into the room and the injured husband would agree to compromise the matter by Mr. Greeen attaching his signature to a check. Three checks, for different amounts, (circumstances for determining which should be used) were filled out and had in readiness by Taylor. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Green met, but the woman, who had been forced, by threats and ill-usage and through fear, to enter into the scheme, refused at the last minute to carry out the programme as arranged, and the whole thing miscarried. After Taylor was arrested yesterday the checks, lacking only the signature, were found torn into small bits by Constable Botello in the room occupied by the pair.

The origin of yesterday's difficulty was the failure of the plans of Monday, Taylor, in his drunken anger, grossly insulting and publicly beating the woman. A TIMES reporter called upon Mrs. Taylor yesterday afternoon. She at first refused to say anything whatever about the trouble with her husband. Later, however, she talked more freely. Notwithstanding the attempts of "Major" Lee and Harrison to intimidate her and induce her to withdraw the charge against Taylor, she will prosecute him to the bitter end. She will also sue at once for a divorce. This, however, will hardly be necessary, as a well-deserved term in the penitentiary would answer the same purpose, and free her from the galling bonds that bind her to the leech who thrives on the life-blood of good society.

Williams, after the excitement, cooled down, kindly consented to shelter Mrs. Taylor until morning, when some very interesting developments are anticipated in the court, where it is expected the whole matter will be ventilated.

ROTTEN FOUNDATIONS.

An Investigation of the Walls of the New Jail.

The article relating to the rotten stone used in the foundation of the city jail which appeared first in the TIMES, was commented upon in the Council yesterday, and resulted in a motion being made by Councilman Niles that after adjournment the Council as a Committee of the Whole should visit the jail and judge what the quality of the material is. This was done, and upon arriving at the walls Councilman Velarde procured a hammer and struck some of the stones fronting on Second street. These proved to be in excellent condition and in every respect satisfactory, but on going to the west side Councilman Brown found two or three stones which crumbled at every blow of the hammer. All present agreed that they were not fit to use in the building, but as Architect Young persisted in saying that this stone would harden after a few weeks exposure to the air, the investigation was continued. The stone used on the east side is very good, and it is doubtful if better sandstone exists anywhere, but Councilman Niles, going inside, soon found a stone a little below the surface which gave evidence of being very rotten. In the first place he stuck his penknife into it up to the handle, but this Mr. Young explained by saying that the outside was shale and might be expected to flake off. City Engineer Knox then struck it a few blows with his hammer and the large block was reduced almost instantly to a pile of what was little better than wet gravel. The stones above them caved in, and Mr. Young carefully picked over the ruins, expressing astonishment that any such material should have got in. "But," said he, "Gentlemen, I don't think you will find five such stones in the whole building." The investigation went on, however, and several other stones were pronounced unfit for building purposes by the Councilmen. Just what action will be taken is not known, but it is not probable that a building intended for such a purpose as a jail will be permitted to rest on a foundation of stones which can be cut to pieces with a penknife. The contractors, however, claim that they have complied strictly with the specifications.

Woman's Auxiliary, G. A. R.

The supper and ball given by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Frank Bartlett Post, G. A. R., at Good Templars' Hall last night, proved a greater success than was anticipated. Supper, an excellent one, embracing an almost endless variety of good things, was served in the hall from five until seven o'clock, during which time nearly 400 persons sat down to the table.

At 8 o'clock the "Address of Welcome" was made by Mrs. Ransome, followed by several vocal and instrumental selections, all of which were well received.

Dancing was begun early in the evening, and continued until 11 o'clock. The entertainment was a happy reunion, and will be productive of still happier results by the relief to widows and orphans which the money made last night will give.

Accident to a "Times" Carrier.

Yesterday a lad by the name of Smalley, who delivers the TIMES to the district west of Seventh street, met with an accident, his horse slipping and throwing him off. He received several sprains, and in consequence was unable to deliver the papers. At a later hour they were served by another carrier.

Police Commission.

The Police Commission meets this morning at 11 o'clock, and will probably make a number of new appointments.

School Entertainment.

On Friday evening the pupils of St. Vincent's School will give an entertainment at the Opera House. No doubt a large number of friends of the institution will be present.
